COURSE SYNOPSIS – CORE COURSES (THESIS BASED PROGRAMME)

Name of Course : Research Methodology
Course Code : RSM7301
Credit Hours : 3
Synopsis :

This course is designed to provide students with an understanding on some of the fundamental skills required to conduct a rigorous and theoretically correct business related research. The course emphasizes the importance of formulating and articulating the research question, the relationship of the research question to an appropriate methodology and the assumptions which underpin them. In addition to research designs, this course will discuss theory and hypotheses testing, measurement of constructs such as operational definitions, validity and reliability, and the data collection and analysis techniques.

Name of Course : Research Analysis
Course Code : RSM7304
Credit Hours : 3
Synopsis :

This course covers:

1. First Part: Introduces students to methods of multivariate analysis widely employed in business research. Key topics in the course include descriptive and inferential statistics, hypotheses testing, multiple regression and partial least squares SEM.
2. Second Part: Exposes students on advanced methods and techniques commonly used by qualitative researches. The topics will include types of inquiry and data collection methods, types of analyzing data as well as using the qualitative software Atlas Ti and NVivo.

The focus of this course will be in the application of both statistical and qualitative tools with heavy emphasis on how to interpret the results correctly.

Name of Course : Advanced Research Methodology

Course Code : RSM8401

Credit Hours : 3

Synopsis :

This course is to provide students with higher level research designs and methods culminating with the preparation of a thesis proposal including a comprehensive referencing. A certain degree of knowledge of basic research is assumed. Through this course students will be provided with a more specialised knowledge and skills for designing quantitative research at the advanced level including understanding and applying a more advanced statistical tolls. This course will also introduce students to the skills in writing research proposal and papers for journals and conferences.

DISCIPLINARY OFFENCES

Disciplinary offences are unjustifiable or unlawful actions, which would have the effect of unfairly promoting or enhancing one's academic standing within the entire community of Putra Business School. The actions would also injure, harm or damage members of the University, the public, guests of the University or its property, activities or reputation. They include actions which impede or prevent the proper functioning of the University or which prevent any member of it from pursuing his/her work or study. The following is a list of some, but not all, disciplinary offences.

1. Absent from lecture without prior permission or subsequent approval.
2. Plagiarism. This consists of, but is not limited to, copying portions of the writing of others with only minor changes in wording, with (a) inadequate footnotes, quotes, or other reference forms of citation or (b) only providing a list of references. Paraphrasing without appropriate citation is also plagiarism.
3. Failure to appear for an examination without permission or subsequent approval.
4. Impermissible conduct during examination. This consists of the following:
 - i) Giving or receiving or possessing any information which is related to the examination questions.
 - ii) Referring and using any prohibited reference material in or outside the Examination Hall/Room for the purpose of cheating.
 - iii) Communicating to other students for the purpose of cheating.
 - iv) Substituting for, arranging for substitution by another student, or representing oneself as another person.
5. Altering, changing, or forging University academic records, including attendance records, regarding oneself or others, entering the signature of any academic officer on any official University form, or causing any false information to be presented at an academic proceeding or intentionally destroying evidence important to an academic proceeding.
6. Infringing upon the right of other students to fair and equal access to any University Resource Centre references and comparable or related academic resources. This may include, but not limited to, theft, mutilation, unreasonably delayed responses when materials are requested by the University Resource Centre staff or not returning materials upon deadline.

7. Attempting deliberately to prevent other users' access to the University computer system, deprive them of resources, and degrade system performance, or copying or destroying files or programmes without consent.
8. Falsification of data collected in the conduct of research or the presentation of falsified data in papers, manuscripts, books or other documents submitted for publication or for the degree requirements.
9. Organising assemblies or using of loudspeakers without permission.
10. Display any flags, banners, placards, posters, emblems or other devices that may promote indiscipline or disorder among students.
11. Publishes, distributes or circulates any document within or outside the campus without prior permission.
12. Participates in any activity outside the campus that has a direct adverse effect on or is prejudicial to the interest of PBS.
13. Engages in any occupation, employment, business, trade or any activity, whether on a full time or part-time basis, which in the opinion of the President is undesirable.
14. Organising, managing, operating or participating in any gaming, wagering, and lottery or betting within the Campus.
15. Consuming or possessing any liquor and display disorderly behavior.
16. Possession of any obscene article or materials.
17. Possession of any drug or poison.
18. Failure to direct complaints according to the procedures established or protocol.
19. Infringes any Law or Regulations of Malaysia.

The above is not an exhaustive list and other instances of disciplinary offence may occur. Their identification will require the prudent judgment of the University Student Disciplinary Committee. The above definitions and examples apply to all Putra Business School students regardless of the programmes in which they are enrolled.

PENALTIES

Students who commit any disciplinary offence will be referred to the University Student Disciplinary Committee. If found guilty, students may be subject to the imposition of any one or a combination of two or more of the following penalties:

1. Warning
2. Fine up to a maximum of RM 500.00.
3. Given an 'F' grade for the particular course.
4. Nullification or adjustment of entire examination results or any part of the examination results for that trimester/semester.
5. Payment of compensation or damages for any damage to property and University facilities or any third party claimant.
6. Suspension from the University for a Fixed Period of time.
7. Expulsion from the University.
